

DEMOCRACY, JOURNALISM & LITERACY in the era of post-truth

Tuesday, 5th December 2017
15.00 - 18.30
Room PHS P1 C 051
Altiero Spinelli Building
European Parliament, Brussels

Democracy, Journalism and Literacy – How to preserve media freedom, pluralism and citizens' interests in a post-truth era is brought to you by CMPF (Centre for Media Pluralism and Media Freedom) and EAVI (Media Literacy for Citizenship), and hosted by MEPs Barbara Spinelli and Curzio Maltese.

The media is increasingly central to our everyday lives and the democratic process is struggling to adapt to the new environment. The debate will provide an opportunity to reflect on ways the media shapes citizens' perceptions, the role of journalism and how to contribute to media literacy, media freedom and pluralism.

Agenda

- 15.00 Welcome – Barbara Spinelli (MEP) and Curzio Maltese (MEP)
- 15.10 Introduction by CMPF – Director Pier Luigi Parcu
Media Freedom and pluralism in the transition to the digital media era
- 15.25 Keynote speech – The Future of Media Pluralism – Damian Tambini, LSE
- 15.40 Round table debate – 4 minute interventions
- 16.10 Introduction by EAVI – Paolo Celot, Secretary General
Media literacy: My Story, Migrants and Media
- 16.25 Keynote speech – Fake news, le révélateur d'un monde à la dérive – Jean-Paul Marthoz, UCL
- 16.40 Round table debate – 4 minutes interventions
- 17.10 Introduction by EFJ – Renate Schroeder, Director
Who is going to pay for quality journalism? The crisis of media economic models
- 17.25 Round table debate – 4 minute interventions
- 18.10 Closing remarks – Barbara Spinelli and Curzio Maltese

Moderated by Giovanni Melogli, Alliance Internationale de Journalistes

With interventions from Paolo Cesarini and Jon Filipek DG CNECT, Lisa Ginsborg CMPF, Tom Gibson CPJ, Adeline Hulin UNESCO, Julie Majerczak Reporters without Borders, Giacomo Mazzone EBU, Iva Nenadic CMPF, Lara Orlandi DG CNCT Gilles Pelayo EACEA, Kristina Stump and Suzanne Vanderzande DG CNCT, Julie Ward MEP and #MyStory Project partners

Cocktail Reception

Organised by CMPF, EAVI & GUE/NGL

Hosted by Barbara Spinelli & Curzio Maltese

Languages: EN, FR, & IT

CMPF and EAVI are co-funded by the European Union